It's Vintage Virtual Shopping in the West Bottoms

Due to COVID 19 Restrictions – Shopping via Social Media and Websites

KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI, April 3, 2020 – Typically this West Bottoms First Friday Weekend would have welcomed an estimated 20,000 visitors shopping the trove of all things vintage, antique, and unique, story-rich items. The thirteen-block area is the largest indoor, vintage shopping experience in the nation. However, due to the COVID restrictions, the West Bottoms is hosting a Vintage Virtual Shopping experience. The stores are showcasing special items on their social pages and websites. Shoppers can go to WestBottoms.com and view the social posts to find or their respective social media pages.

While the West Bottoms Bunnies in the Bottoms event won't be happening this year, many stores are hopping with lots of virtual spring shopping specials. Participating stores include:

“We are making the best out of the quarantine orders,” said Amber Arnett-Bequeaith, West Bottoms spokesperson for the district. “The stores have so many lovely things to showcase and we encourage folks to go shop what they have online to support these wonderful, small, family-owned businesses.”

About the West Bottoms Historic Entertainment District:

The West Bottoms Historic Entertainment District, located just off the 12th Street Bridge, has 22 warehouses in a thirteen-block area with approximately 600 vendors and more than 25 stores and restaurants. Many of the large, multi-story buildings have histories starting over 120 years ago. They have now repurposed this vast space to earn the title of the largest, year-round, indoor vintage and entertainment district. Since 1988, the District is the destination for interior decorators and designers, collectors and consumers seeking stylish décor and gift options with history and patina that cannot be duplicated. The weekend's street entertainment, food trucks, and bars are all part of the Festival of the Full Moon. Full Moon Escape Rooms add another adventure option in the area. westbottoms.com
